1 Introduction

Doxee is a strategic partner for the design, implementation and delivery of ICT communication and dematerialization solutions.

Through a service-oriented culture and twenty years of work experience with customers and partners, Doxee is able to propose a clear approach to help client companies maximize the value of corporate communication, in particular in the ways with company communicates its own image to the outside world, involving it directly and interactively.

The introduction of advanced methodologies for building and distributing communications helps client companies to recover efficiency and increase profitability, supporting their digitization and dematerialization processes, resulting in a reduction of paper production of paper and a decrease in environmental impact.

The Management, aware of its role and its obligations towards the natural environment in which it operates, has for years embarked on a path of continuous improvement of its performance, with the objective to developing valuable and sustainable services in compliance with the regulations and capable of to satisfy the requests and expectations of its stakeholders.

For this reason, this Policy aims to be a reliable, transparent and effective communication tool, through which Doxee makes employees, customers, suppliers, public administrations, associations, etc. aware of its regarding its activities, performances, aspects, programs and objectives in respect of the environment.

The Management defines and discloses its environmental sustainability values through this Environmental Policy which is communicated and disseminated within the Company and externally to customers, suppliers and all interested third parties.

- systematically renew its cars fleet, allowing to keep the environmental impact of the cars used low;
- disseminate the environmental culture among its employees, customers and suppliers;
- manage natural resources and energy in a rational and sustainable way, enhancing their use and reducing waste;
- oversee company processes with adequate monitoring and control tools for environmental aspects;
- operate through an integrated management system in which the exchange of information and the synergies between the functions represent strategic values;
- maintain a transparent and collaborative relationship with the public authorities and/or the competent control bodies;
- periodically review the Policy, Objectives, Targets and related implementation programs and the Company Management System and give adequate visibility within the company.

Doxee has identified environmental indicators that allow monitoring of the degree of achievement of the objectives. The results of this monitoring are recorded and analyzed, during the Review of the Integrated Management System, by the Management, by the Quality, Environment and Information Security Managers and by the Function Managers in order both to assess its continuous adequacy and to improve company methods and the Management System itself.

To achieve the environmental objectives, the Management undertakes to:

- ensure that the Environmental Policy is supported, known and applied at all levels of the organization;
- involve and consult collaborators on environmental issues,
- guarantee the human and instrumental resources necessary for the achievement of company objectives;
- ensure that all workers are trained, informed and sensitized to carry out their tasks, in compliance with the requirements of the law to minimize the environmental impact and in the awareness of their responsibilities within the Company Management System;
- ensure that the entire company structure participates, according to its own powers and skills, in achieving the assigned objectives, including those on environmental management.
